ITS PROGRESS IN THE NEW DOMINION. HALIPAX, N. S., May 22, 1877. The Catholic citizens of this province to-day precented an address of welcome to the Right Rev. eorge Conroy, D. D., Bishop of Ardagh and Apostolic Delegate to the Dominion of Canada, who has been for a few days past on a visit to this point, and who took se prominent a part in the consecration of Archbishop Hannen on Sunday last. The presentation took place at the Glabe House, and the address was read in an impressive manner by the Very Rev. Canon Power.

REPLY OF THE APOSTOLIC DELEGATE. His Excellency's reply was as follows:-

Riveres of Patrices and Gentlewens:

The life of Pins IX, has been a life of joys mingled with sorrows; now shining with the glories of Tahor, now darkened by the shadows of Calvary. His one abining consolation is the special control of Canada.

The this church. I bless God it at I have witnessed proofs of your rendering the history of the Vicar of Great. Worthy fruits are these of the nobler inheritant of fatish that has develved upon the Church of Canada. The very name of your province of Nova Scotia rement that belped to make the Scotia of old the glory of the Irish their great apostle; the faith of Irish divers of the Kenton of Canada.

The very name of your province of Nova Scotia remind me that this Church reproduces in berself the element that belped to make the Scotia of old the glory of the Irish their great apostle; the faith of Irish and which sor children learned from St. Parinek's lips, and the faith of Scotiand, which Columbus and his brethren carried in their banks to their kinsmen beyond the sea.

The CRURCH of Canada with the merits their sainted faith of Scotiand, which bonds of a common faith. Kindred indeed becopie in this free land, among whose citizens they are broud to be carolled.

It is the fashion at present with a certain class of writers to dwell upon the deay of faith in modern nations and to insist on the separation which they hold must obtain more and more every day between Catholicism and the highest forms of human energy and cutture. This is but partially true in Europe, and evideally it is altogether take in America. I behold here the lath that has come from the Cold World in close alianace with the young forces that belong especially to the new. This alliance is a fresh proof that the Catholic faith, ever ancient and ever new, like its Divine author, is made for all time and for every condition of society. From it great benefits accuse to religion and to society at large. I need not dwell upon the wonders it has accomplished for religion or the American Continent within the ast half century; how dioceses have been multiplied, thurches built, schools and colleges erected, monasteries and convents opened and benevolent institutions established for religion of every form of moral and physical intuity; but I would point especially to the creation of the latholic University of Layal as a proof as well of the entatholic University of Layal as a proof as well of the significant and the content of the religioner of the REIMON.

What Catholic France has barely achieved after half a sectury of struggle, what Catholic Ireland after heroic enleavors has not yet succeeded in accomplishing Catholic Janada has been alle to effect. For the first time since the cavors has been able to effect. For the first time since the Relognation has been able to effect. For the first time since the Relognation has every contil have joined hands in the great work of building up university in which religion and science shall ever be inseparably united. It is the union of religion with intellectual culture and with the finistry that creates material processes which makes states to grow and prosper. It alone produces sen who will know how to render intelligent obedience to inwrul authority for conscience sake; it alone can teach eitzens to live together in that peace which has respect for the rights and consideration for the feelings of others; it alone can create a healthy public spirit and a love of country that shall rise superior to the petty interests and prejudices of Inctions.

shall rise superior to the pasty fractions, see to think that the Catholic citizens of the Dominanda are men of this noble stamp. I have noticed at astisfaction that during these days of their directions of the citizens of their fellowettle notices of their fellowettle notices and signal of good feeling and respect the ray that their number of the citizens of the country may not that through them this number of the citizens of preard this happy result. In recollection of the kind reception you have accorded me on the very threshold of my mission, I shall find a contant source of encouragement during my stay in your bountry and a pleuge of ultimate success. For that receptions, the success of the success of the success of the success of the success.

ion once again I beg you will accept my thowledgments. The apostolic delegate and Bishops Taschereau, Fabre, Sweeny, Healy, Rogers and their chaplains have left this city, the delegate with Archbishop Taschereau, ca route for Queboc.

ABBANGEMENT FOR THE RECEPTION IN QUEBEC, QUESEC, May 22, 1877. Arrangements for the reception of Dr. Conroy and the apostolic delegates are being made under the tupervision of the Superintendent of the Provincial

HOUSE OF THE HOLY FAMILY.

Notwithstanding the stormy weather a goodly number of ladies and gentlemen assembled yesterday at the House of the Holy Family, No. 136 Second avenue to partake of strawberries and cream, buy dainty fancy articles and fragrant flowers and listen to a selection of solos, ducts and choruses, effectively ren-dered by the choir of St. Ann's Church. The following ladies presided over the various departments of entertainment and conducted visitors through the house:--Mrs. Mary C. D. Starr, Mrs. George Hecker, Mrs. can Harris, Mrs. L. B. Binsse, Mrs. General Badeau, Mrs. Dr. Burke, Mrs. C. Boyce, Mrs. John Colvill, Mrs. C. F. Elliott, Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. General Ferero, Mrs. F. Gibert, Mrs. J. T. As the object of the institution is to befriend children and young girls a report of its work is of intersat to those wno would redeem the lailen and save the destitute. The economy of the administration speaks for uself. No salaries are paid to matrons or managers, the inmates do all the work of the establishment, besides having earned $2,863-76 during the past may by sewing and laundry work for the patrons of the beune. One feature of the year has been a marked teresake in the number of applicants for shelter. While the hard times have driven many to ask this aid of the house, they have also caused many who formerly convibuted most liberally to withdraw much of their mipher. The reception held yesterday and continued to-day, from two to six P. M., is designed to raise sands for the payment of a portion of the mortgage and interest thereon, which fails due July 1. Twelve hundred dollars is required to meet this demand, and the friends of the house are solicited to make the respiton a success. The number of innates is now 100, sared for during the last year 301, besides relief given to 4,000 applicants who could not receive the benefit of the abelier afforded by the house. The total expenditure for the past year for previsions, dry goods, shoes, gas and juci was $4,753 81—less than $50 per capita. Since the establishment of the house in 1874 a floating debit for repairs, atterations and furnishing of $15.446 has been paid. Dr. Chatard, Fathers McDowall, McArthur and T. F. Lynch were among the guests yesterday. To-day some distinguished amareurs will reader a varied programme

A LOST CHILD.

Henry G. Dantels, a lad aged fourteen years, left his home in Williamsburg about a week ago, and is supposed to have gone away with Murray's Circus, which left the town about the time he was missed. Several boys, schoolmates of young Daniels, say he told them ne was going to Brownsville, Nob., to see an uncle there restaing. The case has been put in the hands of the police, and detectives are looking up the young runsway. The mother of the bey says he was an in-cessant reader of boys' papers, and his mind was ared by the remains of them.

WASHINGTON, May 22, 1877. AN OFFICE DECLINED BY A MEMBER OF A RE-

TURNING BOARD-REFLECTIONS ANSWERED. Some uncharitable inferences intended to reflect upon President Hayes have been drawn from the fact that he yesterday appointed to the vacant collectorship of internal revenue in South Carolina ex-Attorney General Dunn, whose name will be remem bered as one of the members of the famous Returning Board of that State. It has been charged that the appointment was made in return for the political services rendered the President in declarthm. It turns out now that the place was not only not solicited by Mr. Dunn, but is not wanted by him, if we may judge from the fact that he telegraphed back to the President to-day declining it. The district is identical with the limits of the State and is a large and responsible one. The position was one which it was necessary to fill as soon as possible in the interests of the public service, and when the subject came up in the course of conversation at the White House Senator Patterson suggested the mame of Mr. Dunn, who is a bigbly respected and substantial business man.

A DAY OF PATE FOR THE MARINE BAND-UN-FORTUNATE RESULTS OF COMPLYING WITH THE LAW.

The historical Marine Band of Washington is on the eve of a reduction of numbers and pay, which will doubtless end in its demoralization and oventual dissolution. Owing to the deficiency in the Navy pay appropriation and a strict interpretation of the law authorizing the band, an official order has gone forth for its reduction to thirty members at the monthly pay per man of not exceeding $21. The leader, Schneider, is virtually totged out of office, and will, it is said, go to London. Those who choose to remain and constitute the maximum of thirty, allowed by the order, must put up with the pay sergeants and an extra $4 for play ing at the President's grounds. be the extent of their allowance, which for first class nusscians is ridiculous, but the times are so hard that many of the men will probably remain playing until they can secure better engagements elsewhere. Thus the curtailed band will gradually go to pieces. The officers of marine corps are in too bad a plight to allow them to think of defraying the expense of maintaining its organization out of their own pockets. The navy pay deficiency bears upon them too severely to permit them to attempt a system of contributions to support the existence of the band independently of the government allowances.

FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, May 22, 1877. THE RECENT ATTACK ON SECRETARY SHERMAN AND ITS CAUSES-A NICE ARRANGEMENT FOR

THE CAPITALISTS. Mr. William D. Kelley and Senator Jones, of Nevada, are believed here to have inspired the attack on Secretary Sherman in the Washington Nation. They declare that Mr. Sherman is ruining the country, and no doubt they would like their own financial plans adopted. Mr. Kelley's plan is well known; the pages in the House of Representatives speak of it familiarly as the "incontrovertible bond theory." Mr. Kelley is the friend of the workingmen, and as such he wants to make themwho are the taxpayers-pay interest to the cap italists of the country, when they can got interest on their money nowhere else. That is the real meaning of his interconvertible bond scheme by which a capi talist may turn bonds into the treasury and get green backs for them when he wants money; while when he has no more use for money he may send back the non-interest bearing greenbacks and oblige the treasury to give him bonds for them bearing four per cent. It is a very convenient arrangement for capitalists; but it is not so clear how it is to benefit the poor laboring man, who has neither bonds nor greenbacks, but whose taxes are to pay the rich man interest on his idle money. As to Senator Jones, he was once a silver man, but he is now understood to favor the abolition of the national banks, the permanent abolition of gold and silver as currency, the issue of irredeemable legal tenders at so many dollars per head of our total population, and a yearly census, with an increased usue of greenbacks based on the increase in population. Mr. Jones is confident that with such a system we shall be happy and prosperous, and as he finds Secretary Sherman incapable of seeing the beauties of his system he nat-

A VICTIM TO THE NEW ORDER OF THINGS-SAD FATE OF A LOBBYIST-AWFUL WARNING TO THE CORRUPTERS OF LEGISLATORS.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD, I

COLUMBIA, May 22, 1877. The sersation of to-day was the rough handling which a notorious lobbyist, Peter Papin by name, ieceived at the hands of the indignant House of Representatives, and which finally resulted in that politician being placed in prison and in peril of the permanent defeat of his proposed pecuniary prospects.

SKETCH OF THE VICTIM Papin is a visionary who has been hanging around the capital several weeks engaged in the endeavor to secure special legislation in favor of a certain bogus corporation for the improvement of Port Royal, town and barbor, in this State, and for other purposes, which corporation, known to be the head and front, he is shrewdly suspected of being the whole body. After successfully lobbying his per scheme through the Senate, Peter followed it to the House, and sot to work, it seems, to influence the Com-mittee on Incorporations to report invocably upon his bill.

mittee on Incorporations to report favorably upon his bill.

NOT AWARE OF RECENT CHANGES.

His over zealousness and bad judgment betrayed him yesterday into a proposition to ceriain members of the Committee to reward them for any efforts they might be disposed to make in his benalt. This fact was, to his great amazement, duly reported in the House to-day, and Mr. Papin, who was present, was summoned before the bar of the House and required to answer to the charges of contempt of that honorable body.

Peter's defence was brief and to the point. He merely said that he would swear upon the Bible that all the committee had alleged against him was an infamous he and slander. He was, of course, instantly silenced by the Speaker's gavel and a resolution immediately adopted consigning him to jail for the remainder of the session, which order was carried into effect without delay.

This victim of the new order of things in South Carolina was at one time well known in Washington, where he figured largely as a lobbyist in connection with the subject of government lands in the West. His untimely taking off to-day is calculated to discourage the pursuit of a profession which has been industriously and effectually pursued in this State for several years past.

THE MIDNIGHT MURDER.

INVESTIGATING THE WILLIAMSBURG TRACEDY-PLENTY OF WITNESSES BUT VERY LITTLE TESTIMONY.

The inquest into the murder of John Gunser at East Williamsburg on Sunday night, the 13th ibst., was resumed by Coroner Carroll yesterday afternoon at Metropolitan Hall.

Adam Martin testified:-I have resided in East Williamsburg one year and a half; worked at carpenter work with Mr. Gunser; he hired me by the day and I boarded with him; on Sunday, 13th, I went home with the girl Ebhardt; returned again about ten minutes to eleven o'clock; it was near eleven o'clock when I went to bed; I had never seen Louis Walter, the lodger, belore Saturday night; he was at Guuser's when I came home; took breakfast with me on Sunday morning; I was awakened by Mrs. Gunzer calling "Adam! Adam!"; Lizzie said, There is something going on down stairs;" I think she was frightened; there was a light in the room where Lizzie and the children slept; the first I heard was Lizzie calling; she started down stairs as quick as possible; myself, Lizzie and August were the first possible; myself, Lizzie and August were the first down stairs; at the turn of the stairs I showed the girl aside and ead to ber, "let me go down first;" when I got to the foot of the stairs I saw Mrs. Gunser winging her hands over her head, crying "Adam! Adam! come, my husband is stabled;" when I went into the bar Mrs. Gunser went into the kitchen; the hall door leading into the barroom was shut but not locked; saw the pieces of the gun found in Mrs. Gunser's room after I came back with the doctor; on going into the barroom I opened the front door, then went back and saw Mr. and Mrs. Gunser in the bedroom; I think he was dead; put my head to his breast, but could not hear him breathe; told Mrs. Gunser that he was dead, and then went for the neighbors; Mrs. Gunser, when I told her he was dead, said nothing; she was crying. Dr. Charles T. Stahl testified:—It was about half past one when he reached Guiser's; went into the bedroom and saw Guisser lying on the bed on his right side, his knees flexed, his head partly out of bed, the shoulders resting on the pillow; the bedstead was about one foot from the wall, with the head toward the rear of the building; there was sufficient room between the bedstead and wail for a man to have struck Guisser; Mrs. Guisser said, "Go and tend my husband;" I saw that he was dead and went to attend Mrs. Guisser; she had acoutusion on the forehead and a small cut over the left ear; the incision was about one and a half inches in length and must have been made with some sharp instrument; the wound on the left arm must have been made with some blust instrument; and not be foreign that her husband was dead; I said to her, "He is all right;" I think that she knew he was dead; she was so coof; the wound on Guisser appeared to have been inflicted with some blust instrument; the fracture on his skull was flat, and death must have been instantaneous. Witness described how the deceased could have received the blow with the flat part of the gun stock. (There is an indentation on the wall at the back of where the bed stood; the stock of the gun has considerable lime on it, but no blood.) Whoever struck the blow must have taken deliberate aim.

The tramp arrested by Sergant McMannus at Long Island City was then sworn. He testified that his name was Farrell McGovern; he gave the name of Ryan when arrested, as he did not wish his friends to know of it. He was examined at some length by the District Attorney as to his whereabouts on the night of the murder and for two weeks preceding it. He repired to all questions unbesitatingly, and gave a detailed account of his doings. He was remanded to the custody of the officer. The blood blister on his hand was examined by Dr. Stahl, who said that it could not have been made by catching in the trigger of the gun.
